CACH Capital Management Announces Strategic Alliance with Loring Ward

- Partnership Provides CACH Clients Access to Dimensional Fund Advisors Money Management

Austin, Texas, March 2, 2010 — CACH Capital Management, LLC (CACH), a Texas-based SEC registered investment advisory firm, announced today a strategic alliance with California-based LWI Financial Inc. ("Loring Ward") to offer expanded services to investors to include access to Dimensional Fund Advisors' (DFA) institutional mutual funds. CACH along with Loring Ward will further become the premier provider of Dimensional Fund Advisors solutions to Texas investors.

Through this alliance, CACH clients benefit from Loring Ward's relationship with DFA. Loring Ward is a California based third-party money manager, with nearly $5 billion in assets under management who provides services to only select financial advisors nationwide. Dimensional Fund Advisors is an institutional investment management firm with more than $160 billion in assets under management. DFA recently relocated its' headquarters from California to Austin, Texas.

"We are pleased to be aligned more closely with two well-respected names in money management – Loring Ward and Dimensional Fund Advisors," says, Michael J. Hundley, President & CEO for CACH. "We continue to listen to our clients and the investing public. Both demand proven, academically skilled and focused money managers who execute their strategies with discipline. We selected the Loring Ward-DFA solution to meet that client demand and because their values align best with ours."

CACH clients will receive Loring Ward's impressive Structured Investing portfolio management program, which is grounded in over 80 years of market data, behavioral economics and Nobel-Prize winning research. "Altogether, this relationship means more main street investors can bypass barriers that typically prevent these individuals from entrance into DFA's exclusive investment products," explains Hundley.

This alliance provides yet another advantage to CACH, who continues to grow despite challenging economic times. Along with Loring Ward, DFA, and its other proprietary analytics, CACH truly offers the most up to date, advanced and effective uniform analytical processes for evaluating, consulting, and advising retail individual, institutional and corporate clients. Loring Ward will provide CACH and its investors proven portfolio strategies and educational support, which will lead to the utmost professional and personalized approach to client servicing.
